PRINCE RUPERT FISHING FLEET

PRINCE RUPERT, the terminus of the Canadian National Railway in Northern British Columbia, has come to the fore of recent years as one of the premier fish-producing areas of the Dominion of Canada. Prince Rupert halibut is known all over the American continent, and the industry has reached large proportions because of the distribution service placed at the disposal of the fishermen at that port by the Canadian National Railway.

The one essential in the fishing industry is the speedy marketing of the fish after they are caught. By means of a rapid express service over the Canadian National, halibut and other fish from Prince Rupert are laid down in Winnipeg, Montreal, Toronto and other Canadian and American cities very quickly after they are landed from the fishing boats in Prince Rupert harbor.

Halibut fishery is the chief sea industry of Prince Rupert, and during 1922, 25,275,500 lbs. of halibut were landed at that port. In addition, 33,225,500 lbs. of salmon were caught and large quantities of herring, cod, flat fish and crabs. The cod and herring fisheries, which have scarcely been touched as yet, hold a great future.

The photograph shows a few of the hundreds of boats engaged in the halibut fisheries out of the port of Prince Rupert.

Close The Back Door

Commenting on the decision to remove some of the existing restrictions on immigration into Canada, a Western weekly paper says that while it may or may not be a good idea to open the door to immigration into Canada, more important than opening the front door is finding some means of closing the back door—in other words, stopping emigration from Canada.

The same opinion has been expressed over and over again in this column. The back door, however, can only be closed through the adoption of policies which will so improve conditions in the industry of agriculture as to make farming profitable, and those engaged in food production satisfied and contented to remain on the land.

One means of bringing about that much to be desired result is the provision of long promised branch lines of railway to settlers who homesteaded, or took up land in other ways, in districts upon the promise of early transportation facilities being provided. In most instances early surveys of the proposed lines were made, and in quite a few cases the grade was wholly or partially constructed. The war, unfortunately, put an end to the laying of steel, and people generally, even those who suffered directly and most severely, accepted the delay.

This year, however, when the Canadian National Railway supported by the Government and House of Commons decided to proceed with the completion of several of those much needed branch lines, the Senate placed its veto on the proposal. And because protest was voiced in this column against the action of an unrepresentative body, in no way responsible to the people and wholly beyond their control, thus nullifying the wishes of the vast majority of the people, certain readers wrote complaining of the article in question. The views expressed were not partisan, because the adverse vote in the Senate on the question of branch lines construction was not confined to members of any one political party.

The provision of adequate transportation facilities in order to enable settlers to market the crops they raise is one of the first essentials in any sound and successful immigration policy. The provision of these short branch lines is necessary as feeders to the long and expensive main lines if our railways are to be successful and paying propositions. It is not the lack of main branch lines that are responsible for the huge railway deficits, but the lack of them to provide sufficient traffic for the main lines. Yet the opposing Senators talked as if the construction of these short branches meant adding to the railway deficits.

If further evidence was required to demonstrate the need for the immediate construction of these all-important branches in order that Canada's "back door" be closed, it was provided at the recent sitting of the Royal Grain Inquiry Commission at Winnipeg, Manitoba, when farmer delegates urged the immediate construction of the St. Rose-Robert extension of the C.N.R., and in so doing asserted that in this last three years no less than 2,000 people had left the Municipality of Lawrence, chiefly returned soldiers and Ontario and English farmers, and people are still moving out as fast as they can get out. The land is being abandoned, some going to the United States and others to seek work elsewhere. The Municipality for years had a population of 4,000 but with half of them gone, the remaining 2,000 have to pay the taxes which three years ago were held by the 4,000. Owing to lack of transportation facilities, and consequent difficulty and expense in marketing, only fifty acres on an average are cultivated, a quite insufficient amount to make it a paying proposition.

Witnesses after witness told the same story, and some of the experiences related by one, upstanding English soldier settlers were heartrending. The Grain Inquiry Commission had, of course, no power to hold out any hope to these struggling settlers, but it promised to lay all the facts before the Canadian National Railway.

The branch line in question was one of those killed by the Senate's action. What, it may be asked, is the use of Canada spending huge sums of money on an immigration service, with agents and lectures abroad and expensive publicity campaign designed to secure settlers for Canada, only to have them become discontented through failure to supply their necessary requirements in the way of transportation, and have them depart to the United States, or abandon the land to seek work in the congested labor market of the larger cities?

Let the front door of Canada be opened by all means to immigrants who are sound in body, mind and morals, even though they may not be strong in money but are willing to work and anxious to make good. That is the reason the vast majority of them emigrate—in order to improve their condition in life. But even more important is it that Canada should close its back door and keep these settlers by assisting them with essentials to make a success of their new venture in this country.

After a man has tackled three or four enterprises and failed to succeed in any of them, he usually sets himself up as a pessimist.

When a man proposes he doesn't seem to realize that it may result in losing control of himself.

Clocks Controlled By Wireless

Experts Believe This Method Will Be Generally Used

A clock that by means of wireless operates and successfully controls a number of other clocks has been invented by an American engineer. This invention is believed by experts who have examined it to foreshadow a day when all public clocks will be controlled and synchronized by this method. One of the most wonderful clocks in the world is to be seen at Wells Cathedral. It was made by a monk six hundred years ago. The hours are indicated by the appearance of a number of armed figures on horseback. These meet in a kind of charge, the striking of their lances sounding the chimes for the hour. A clock without visible works is one of the wonders of Waterloo Station, London. It is controlled by electricity, which connects it with a master-clock.

The Peaceful Boundary

Canada and U.S. Prove Relations Can Be Friendly

If Europeans could begin managing their frontiers with some degree of the confidence in their neighbors as friendly human beings, which is characteristic of our Canadian relations, they would begin to recover their peace and prosperity. The fact that we have kept peace, more than 2,000 miles broad and more than 100 years long, proves that it can be done. What Europe needs more than anything else is the study and imitation of our northern frontier.—From the Mail and Empire.

Immense Area of Western Provinces Not Fully Realized By Many

The Natural Resources Intelligence Service of the Department of the Interior at Ottawa says:—

The immensity of area of the prairie provinces can hardly be realized without the study of a good map. When it is realized that in Manitoba, Norway House, at the head of Lake Winnipeg, is below the centre of the province, and that Edmonton and Prince Albert are at a similar position in Alberta and Saskatchewan, some conception of what the possibilities of these western provinces are may be obtained. Surveys of the northern portions of the three provinces have indicated resources of minerals, forests and fisheries, with undeveloped water powers and agricultural areas awaiting only the coming of capital and settlement. Experimental farms are constantly at work on new varieties of agricultural products suitable to the more northerly portions, and with the introduction of these the farming zone will gradually extend north. Maps of the western provinces are available from the Natural Resources Intelligence Service on request.

Certain natural conditions must exist in the stomach, and failings to encourage worms, and they will exist as long as these morbid conditions persist. To be rid of them and spare the child suffering, use Miller's Worm Powders. They will correct the digestive irregularities by destroying the worms, conditions favorable to worms will disappear, and the child will have no more suffering from that cause.

The Greatest Need Of Canada Is Increased Population And Abiding Faith In Our Future

When we have got 100 millions of people in Canada. When the nation to the north of the 49th parallel is equal to the nation to the south, it will then be easy enough to measure our length, and breadth and height. It is not so easy to estimate our greatness in the growing stages.

Above all, in the business of colonization we are in need of the practical mystic, whose imagination leaps forward, whose energy does not flag. If we have a Cecil Rhodes hidden away somewhere in our midst, attack awaits him, proportionate to his genius.

A young man of supreme endowment, addressing himself to this field, need envy no prophet. If ever there was a man's true job, it is the task of building up of our own half of this North American continent. With this task still before us, it is surely a privilege to be young and on the threshold in this Dominion.

Lord Birkenhead's prophecy of five millions more people in Canada in the next ten years sounds well. But we Canadians who are here already have got to get before us, who even be startled toward the realization of that dream.

For the ten years prior to the war we brought in two and a half millions of people. Every year we were bringing in more, and absorbing them with ease. We were acquiring the growing habit so insistently that at last, early in 1914, Sir George Foster had the courage to speak of "A million a year" which at that period sounded like the most logical thing in the world.

Then came the war and arrested development, out of which we formed the marking time habit, until it became just as natural as the growing habit had formerly been.

Today, we present the sad spectacle of a young nation chained too long to the dwarfing policy of marking time. Out of the old arsenal of forgotten shibboleths, we might well revive that brave slogan, "A Million a Year."

As the past distant past witnessed the development of the United States, so, I believe, the not distant future will witness the development of Canada. A development to be brought about by the increasing attention and absorption of new people.

Lord Selkirk was one of the first real colonizers of this country. In the face of the monopoly of the fur trade, against the opposition of the Hudson Bay Company, he had the audacity to dream and to strive for something more than the "Great Lone Land."

He won his untimely grave with a broken heart, but the fertile fields which he had hoped to establish have spread out far beyond the Red River, until now his dreams have eclipsed the fur trade, and Canada has begun to dominate the wheat supply of the world.

Lord Selkirk, with all his disappointments and his failures, was one of the great practical colonizers who not only brought out new settlers but labored toward the creation of new spheres of effort, to bind them to this new land.

James J. Hill, a Canadian Scot, who went to St. Paul to engage in Red River transportation, is another example of sound, colonizing spirit of all history.

How many Canada assisted in the unfolding of this story. It realized by those who are acquainted with that background. Jim Hill, Donald Smith, George Stephen, Norman Kittson are four Canadians that may be listed among the giant figures, who assisted toward the development of that virgin soil through the building of the transcontinental roads, and the subsequent peopling of those vast open spaces, cultivated fields, smiling towns and cities with throbbing hearts of industry and commerce, remain today as the monument of their skill.

When others looked at the North-west and saw only the waste, Hill looked and saw his Empire of Wheat, Minnesota and the Dakotas and other lands today bear witness to the efficiency of the dreams of this Canadian Scot.

Archbishop Ireland used to tell of the way Hill enlisted his services, as a Catholic priest, in order to get prople out onto the deep rich soil. According to Archbishop Ireland, Hill was a flaming proselytizer for the new land, and in which he believed with all his heart, and with all his might, but he was no empty dreamer. His task was not merely to get settlers, but to afford them also adequate opportunities for toil.

Colonization covers the whole field of national development. It is not merely immigration, it is industrialization. It includes at one end, the shiploads of willing workers. It includes at the other end, the smoking chimneys, and the ripening crops, whose increase spells waiting opportunity.

If we are to be a nation, rich and great, we must reserve to ourselves the finishing processes, as well as the raw processes. We must increase the attractiveness of our land by reserving to ourselves not merely the dirty work but also the fancy work. Arthur Hunt Chute in Montreal Star.

If a man is unable to make good on his own account he usually points with pride to his ancestors.

Locomotives recently sent to Brazil had to be unloaded by floating cranes.

Uses For Skimmed Milk

Material Made By New Process Valuable For Many Things

Combining beauty with utility, a material is being made from skimmed milk by a process recently taken to the United States from England, according to The Baltimore Sun. As it is non-inflammable, odorless, and can be drilled, glued and dyed, it has a multitude of uses as a "substitute" for ivory, ebony, amber, tortoise shell, horn and other similar products. Besides, it may be used as an almost perfect imitation of many natural products of great price, among them being Chinese jade and lapis lazuli. A brilliant polish is easily obtained and it can be bent, pressed, and to some extent, molded or machined. As it is a non-conductor of electricity it may be used in making decorative radio and lighting fixtures. Also, it has been found valuable for, ship-cabinets, hand-rails, automobile fixtures, and in the making of beads, buckles, buttons, jewelry, fancy ornaments, cigarette holders, combs, brushes, carriage handles, parts of furniture, pencils and penholders, organ stops, and piano keys.

Facts Would Tend To Indicate That Nations Of The World Are Preparing For Next War

While the Washington Conference was a step in the direction of limiting armaments, insofar as capital ships of the Great Powers are concerned, the truth appears to be, that never were some of the powers so feverishly engaged in building up their fighting strength as at present. The idea that the Great War was a war to end war has been abandoned. There has been the platform of plain speaking both in the Chamber of Deputies and in the House of Commons concerning the building of air fleets. France has now 1,500 planes ready for instant service. Britain has half that many, and even the United States has left it untouched to have 600 fighting planes, and 15,000 trained aviators prepared for an emergency. This year Britain will spend $5,000,000 on her air force, France $35,000,000, and the United States 30,000,000. The money the powers save on capital ships is being spent on airplanes and in smaller vessels not mentioned at the Washington Conference.

France was the first great nation to grasp the fact that airplanes will play a greater part in the next war than in the last war, and that there will be a next war. Even with Germany biplanes and prostrate, France rushed forward into a great airplane building programme though she was unable to find any money to pay her debts to Great Britain. She subsidised the building of planes under the operation of commercial planes, and by these means got the lead which she will try to maintain. Britain paid little attention to airplanes after the war, but became alarmed when she noted the extraordinary production of them in France. She was aware of the fact that France had suddenly come into possession of a weapon with which she might destroy London in short order. If France was not building with an eye on Britain, whose was the enemy? Britain left bound to acknowledge the implied challenge, which explains the large appropriation for airplanes in the last budget.

Larger and larger planes are being built, and it is war comes it will probably be found that planes will be used for transporting troops. It is suspected that both in England and France planes have been built which are capable of carrying fifty soldiers and their equipment, at the rate of a hundred miles an hour or more. Experiments are being conducted with a view of perfecting the direction of unmanned airplanes by means of radio. Such planes will be used for bombing purposes. Another experiment concerns the use of smoke screens to hide the planes from guns on battlefields about to be attacked. More drastic intentions are to be noted in a hundred laboratories, where government chemists have found to produce some more horrible gases than were used in the last war. Although the use of gas was so generally denounced when the Germans first employed it, all the powers had to use it later on, and now all powers are expecting that it will play a great part in the next war. It may be that there will be hesitation in using it first, but when once the ice is broken, it will be found that all the belligerents are well fortified.

Naturally there is the greatest secrecy surrounding all these preparations, just as there was secrecy surrounding the preparations for the last war, but now and then hints are dropped to the effect that if there should be another war chemists and electrical experts have developed weapons that will make the last war seem tame by comparison. It is noted by a writer in The New York Herald that in recent months it has become almost impossible to obtain information as to what the various nations are doing in the matter of submarines. "It has leaked out," however, that Britain having suffered so cruelly from the submarines in the last war, has paid particular attention to this sort of craft, and has actually designed one that carries twelve-inch guns. There is no secret about the fact that the maritime powers are building submarines of a far greater cruising radius than those used by Germany. France is particularly busy with submarines, counting on them and her airplanes as her greatest weapons in the event of another war. Or perhaps it may be more correct to say that she counts on them, to silence criticism of her present course.

Paintings of Siwash Chiefs Presented to British Columbia

Who are they? Where do they come from?

These, and a dozen similar questions, rise in one's mind immediately on seeing the two extraordinary pictures of well-dressed, well-developed, produced about the age of the left, especially, fills the mind with wonder, for only an expert could say at first glance whether the marvellous headresses depicted in Chinese, Egyptian, Russian, Mexican or the favored dream of a post-impressionist who has indulged too freely of bottle whisky. As a matter of fact, it is none of these things. The picture is a faithful representation of the late Chief Napoleon Magnum of the "Neotia" Indians, living on the west coast of Vancouver Island, British Columbia, from the brush of W. Langdon Rihm. And the one, upon the right, by the same artist, suggestive of a Chinaman, is of the Neotia in the arms of our childhood, is of the late Chief Frank Ray, of the Kwantlen, also inhabiting the west coast of Vancouver Island.

These paintings, which, apart from their artistic value, of considerable archaeological importance, since they preserve for future generations the details of a dress which is swiftly passing away, have just been installed in the Provincial Museum of British Columbia at Victoria, where they will grace the anthropological rooms, among other Indian antiquities of the province.

Both the chiefs or tribes which these chiefs represent are of the Wakashan people, described as having been at one time the most warlike, dangerous, independent and adventurous of all coast Indians. The Wakashans are still among the most numerous of the aborigines of British Columbia. But their days of savagery, indeed, as fighting is concerned, are past and in all other respects they are yearly becoming more civilized. "Today, though they still fish, hunt and trade, as from time immemorial, and their canoes are full of savagery, indeed, as fighting is concerned, are past and in all other respects they are yearly becoming more civilized. "Today, though they still fish, hunt and trade, as from time immemorial, and their canoes are full of savagery, indeed, as fighting is concerned, are past and in all other respects they are yearly becoming more civilized."

any other American Indians. They delight in bold efforts and bright colors, especially in red, blue and green, used in conjunction with white and black.

These are the hues which predominate in these paintings, which, of course, lose very greatly unless reproduced in their natural colors. In Chief Napoleon Magnum's headress, evidently a ceremonial creation, the colors are particularly striking. He wears a blanket of red and blue. Chief Frank Ray's hat is brown, its decorations black and red, and his blanket is a brilliant scarlet.

The pictures were made early this year for the Canadian Pacific Railway and used in their original colors for the covers of a folder describing the scenic wonders of the Canadian Pacific tours up and down the Pacific coast between Seattle, Washington, and Skagway, Alaska. It is owing to the generosity of the company that they now become the property of the people of British Columbia.

Fox Worth Small Fortune

Animal Large As Collie Dog Valued at $38,000

A consignment of five foxes arrived recently in Vancouver en route from Montreal to Los Angeles. The shipment was sent by R. T. Moore, and it consists of nearly one hundred black foxes to be used in starting a new breeding farm in California. By crossing a large Russian fox with a Canadian silver fox, Mr. Moore has produced an animal as large as a collie dog, which is valued at $38,000. This animal was bred in Alaska and was recently taken to the Moose River in Calgary for breeding purposes. This is the second shipment that has come west recently.

Alberta Fox Farms

There were 24 fox farms in Alberta in 1918, in comparison with only half that number the previous year, according to a report issued by the Bureau of Statistics at Ottawa.

 4087 THE PROPRIETOR

DISSOLUTION OF REICHSTAG NOW CONSIDERED NEAR

Berlin.—Adam Stegerwald, former premier of Prussia, and Centrist leader, has notified President Ebert that he will be unable to accept the chancellorship, and form a cabinet to take the place of that of Dr. Brüning. The prospects of a dissolution of the Reichstag are considered to be nearer.

The widespread impression that the main cause of the food scarcity in Germany is that the farmers are refusing to sell their crops, preferring to hold them for increased prices, is wholly unfounded, declared the food minister in a statement recently issued.

"Difficulties abound, all of which have their root in the main difficulty of providing means of payment. The farmers are specially hard hit by this, and have suffered very severe losses through the constant depreciation of the mark."

The minister declared that the harvest, although better than that of last year, was not sufficient to feed the people, and there was need for considerable supplies from abroad.

Royal Grain Commission

Alberta to Present State Case Regarding Grain Exchange

Edmonton, Alta.—Attorney-General Brownlee says that the Alberta Government will present a stated case to the Royal Grain Commission, when it takes up, in Winnipeg, its investigation into the grain exchange.

It has not yet been decided, however, in what way the case will be handled. Mr. Brownlee may himself go east for the purpose, if the session of the legislature does not prevent his doing so, and in that event the case may be presented by G. H. Van Allen, who is now acting as special counsel for the government at the grain commission hearings.

Foreigners Swindled

New York.—Foreigners in the last few years have been swindled out of approximately $12,000,000 by a ring of real estate sharks, selling undeveloped marsh lands within a fifty mile radius of New York. James C. Wilson, deputy assistant district attorney, testified before the joint legislative committee investigating immigrant exploitation.

Rhineland Government Unsettled

Düsseldorf.—The provisional government of the Rhineland Republic has been dissolved by Joseph Matthies at Coblenz, following an internal military coup. It was learned here from Matthies himself, who fled while the military separatist dictatorship was being set up.

Something to Think About

New York.—Ignorance of the English language is blamed by safety workers for half the accidents occurring daily in New York factories. Such mishaps mean a loss of about $50,000 daily, to say nothing of the loss of life and limb.

Japan Postpones New Work

Tokyo.—The reconstruction board has reduced the government estimates for rehabilitation to 6,700,000,000 yen ($3,350,000,000). This means the postponement of the Tokyo-Yokohama Canal and the Tokyo harbor works.

Would Reduce Tax On Whiskey

London.—The large whiskey interests in England, Scotland and Ireland have united to open a campaign to persuade the chancellor of the exchequer to reduce the present high tax on whiskey and spirits.

HOCKEY PLAYERS

Minard's is the ideal liniment for the rub-down. Takes the soreness out of bruised muscles.

W. N. U. 1501

Very Little Rum Running

Washington.—Federal prohibition director Stone, of North Dakota, returned after a visit to Winnipeg, where he investigated conditions under which liquor is being sold in Manitoba. He reported that restrictions on the sales are "very tight," and, despite reports to the contrary, little liquor was coming across into the United States. In his report, made to Federal Commissioner Haines, Mr. Stone said that few persons were crossing the Canadian border to purchase liquor in Manitoba, but that "as long as they are selling $15.00 worth of hard liquor a day, a little is bound to leak across the border."

River Water Causes

Typhoid Epidemic

Turned Into Mains to Give Quebec Town Ample Fire Protection

Montreal.—Two people are dead and over a hundred are ill as a result of typhoid fever epidemic, caused by the population drinking polluted river water, which has been raging in the town of St. Jerome, Que.

The epidemic, according to Dr. Les Lozes, head of the provincial department of health, was caused by demonstrations made in St. Jerome during "fire prevention week" a short time ago, when in their enthusiasm and desire to give the town a big water supply to fight fires, the authorities laid pipes from the polluted waters of the Riviere Du Nord into the town's water supply.

Two government health inspectors are in St. Jerome, leading a large number of doctors and trained nurses in an effort to prevent the disease from spreading and to save the hundred or more victims already stricken with the disease. It is believed that a check has been given to the epidemic.

Japanese General Dead

Tokio.—General Kikuo Otani, military counselor of the Japanese Government since 1917 and former commander of Japanese forces in Siberia, died here Nov. 26. He was 67 years old.

ASPIRIN

Say "Bayer" and Insist!

Unless you see the name "Bayer" on package or on tablets you are not getting the genuine Bayer product proved safe by millions and prescribed by physicians over twenty-three years for Colds, Headache, Toothache, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Neuritis, Pain, Pain.

Accept "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" only. Each unbroken package contains proper directions. Handy boxes of twelve tablets cost four cents. Drugists also sell bottles of 24 and 100. Aspirin is the trade mark (registered) of Bayer Manufacturing Co. of Monacoelektroder of Salicylic Acid. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assist the public against imitations the Tablets of Bayer Company will be stamped with their general trade mark, the "Bayer Cross."

Planning New Russian City

Berlin.—A new Russian city, to be called Novorod Lening in honor of the Soviet Premier, is planned in the Mugan district of the Caucasus, according to a newspaper report received here. The city will be laid out in the pattern of the Soviet star, the places between the points to be filled with parks and public gardens.

Collect Millions of Fish Eggs

Ottawa.—The Department of Marine and Fisheries reports a record collection of 64 million white fish eggs in the waters of the Lake of the Woods for incubation in the Kenora hatchery. The current season's collection exceeds that of any previous year by several million.

Ontario Waives Claim

To Assist Depositors

Will Wait Eighteen Months Before Asking Payment From Home Bank

Toronto.—Following a conference between Premier Ferguson, Attorney-General W. E. Nichol and C. T. Clark, co-liquidator for the Home Bank of Canada, the government decided to waive for a period of 18 months its prior right to the full payment of $1,500,000 of provincial monies on deposit with the bank. It is stated from other sources that the payment of the 25 per cent. dividends to the depositors will now commence as speedily as possible.

The government deposit will bear interest at three per cent., which means a saving to the depositors of about two per cent. or $37,500 as the amount involved would have to be borrowed from the Canadian Bankers' Association at five per cent. interest.

Farmed Same Land

For Eleven Centuries

French Family Has Held Estate Since the Year 772

Paris.—The government announcement that it would decorate with the Order of Agricultural Merit the heads of all families which could produce documentary evidence of having farmed the same land continuously for at least three centuries, has brought to the fore no less than 750 families with the necessary qualifications. The record is held by the La Fargues, formerly of Goutle, near Moulins, who have lived on the present estate since the year 772.

Demands Payment

Jugo-Slavia Sends Strong Note to German Government

Belgrade, Serbia.—The Jugo-Slav Government has sent, through the reparations commission, a note to Germany demanding in strong terms the execution of Germany's obligations to Jugo-Slavia and the handing over of deliveries in kind ordered prior to August 11. The note threatens in the event of non-compliance that Jugo-Slavia will take the sanctions provided for by the peace treaty.

Will Not Employ Children

Toronto.—Ninety-five per cent. of industrialists will dispense with the services of their employees between the age of 14 and 16 years if the provision of the Adolescent School Attendance Act regarding part-time instruction be strictly enforced, it is stated.

Cannot Escape Income Tax

Toronto.—Declaring that Canada was in an "income age," Dr. Horace L. Brittain, director of the Citizens' Research Institute of Canada, told the Ontario Manufacturers' Association that the abolition of income taxation would only mean that a provincial income tax would be levied. Dr. Brittain said that within ten years all the provinces in the Dominion would have two-income taxes, either a Dominion and a provincial tax, or a Dominion and a municipal tax.

Form Prohibition League

Dry Forces in Saskatchewan to Combat Efforts of Moderationists

Regina.—To combat the efforts of the Moderation League of Saskatchewan to secure a referendum on the liquor question and subsequently the introduction of a system of government control of the sale of liquor, the Prohibition League of Saskatchewan was launched at the prohibition convention held here.

The provincial prohibition convention was attended by about 250 delegates representative of various organizations from all sections of the province. It was decided, after the league had been organized, to hold an annual meeting each year.

Resolutions were adopted expressing disapproval of the submission of a referendum until at least the expiration of three years from December 15, 1923, when the export liquor warehouses went out of business. The question of sending a delegation to the government to convey this view was referred to the executive of the newly created organization.

A proposal that a counter petition to the Moderation League petition be circulated was also referred to the executive, the statement being freely made that at least 100,000 names could be secured to such a petition.

May Not Reach Agreement

Britain and Italy Setting Obstacles for France Says Paris Journal

Paris.—Julius Sauerstein, foreign editor of Le Matin, expresses the conviction that Great Britain and Italy are going to raise more and more obstacles in the path of France. He says he has no doubt but that the British members of the military control commission in Berlin have received instructions which mean simply the suppression of control altogether.

The Petit Parisien says that London and Paris have reached an agreement on most of the points involved in the Tangier question but that Madrid is hesitating.

Not Little Englanders

London.—J. H. Thomas, railway labor leader and parliamentary candidate, speaking at Barrow, said those who called members of the Labor party "Little Englanders," and declared the Labor party did not believe in the Empire, were "deliberate liars." He added: "We want to see the empire great, but we don't measure greatness by bloody victories or the size of life army and navy."

Voice Across the Sea

New York.—A baritone solo broadcast from the London radio station 2-L.O. was heard distinctly here at the radio station W.O.R. officials announced.

EXPECTING MANY SETTLERS FROM BRITISH ISLES

Montreal.—"If Canada will improve facilities for placing people on the land, making it easier, by means of better organization or otherwise, to become settled, the flow of adaptable people from the British Isles to this country will be greatly increased," said Dr. W. J. Black, manager of the colonization and development department of the Canadian National Railways in London, England, in an interview on his arrival in Montreal from England.

Dr. Black is enthusiastic over the outlook, and while he refrains from making any claims that might be called extravagant, he expresses the belief that immigration to Canada next year will be much heavier than this year. This prediction he bases upon two fundamentals and the evident desire of the federal and provincial governments to arrive at a clear understanding for the putting into motion of the proper machinery, for bringing into this country immigrants of a desirable and adaptable type. The second is the genuine interest shown by Britishers in Canada and the opportunities which Canada offers. This interest is not local to one or two sections of England or Scotland, but is general, according to Dr. Black.

Sea Outlet For Switzerland

Enlarging of Vado Port Would Speed Up Transport

Genoa, Italy.—An extensive project is being studied and plans have already been submitted in part to the Swiss Government. It is stated here, aiming at the transformation of the nearby port of Vado into a sea outlet for Swiss commerce. The project includes the enlargement of the port, the construction of several docks and storehouses, and the readjustment of the existing railway lines in order to speed up transport of goods to and from Switzerland by the Simplon and St. Gothard routes.

May Use Ice Boats

Detroit.—Ice boats probably will be added to the equipment of the prohibition enforcement unit here in an effort to maintain an effective blockade against liquor running from Canada. E. L. Porter Field, assistant national prohibition commissioner, announced.

Saskatchewan Wheat Pool

Regina.—Over 250,000 acres have now been signed up for the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool with waivers and new contracts received at the pool headquarters here.

TRADE MARK

REGISTERED

Here and There

Fifty cars of fish were shipped this season from Lesser Slave Lake to various points in Canada and the United States, the majority going to cities in the Eastern States. These shipments were practically all whitefish, the corner varieties being disposed of in the local market.

Showing a record increase over the figures of last year, grain loadings in the Western Provinces since the commencement of the crop year, September 1st, aggregate $2,219 cars, representing 1,069,848 bushels, as against 80,828 cars loaded, or 1,062,271 bushels, from September 1st to October 14th, 1922.

That the future prosperity of the Maritime Provinces, as well as the whole of Canada, depended on the routing of Canadian trade over Canadian railways and through Canadian ports, was the view expressed by Dr. Murray MacEwen, M.P. for St. John, speaking recently in his constituency.

Tens of thousands of caribou are trekking southwards through Yukon Territory for the winter. Bands of them have passed through the outskirts of Dawson City. For a hundred miles down, bands of caribou can be seen swimming the Yukon river and sometimes surrounding canoes and steamboats as they pass.

Part of the 15,000 feet of moving pictures taken for the Dominion archives by the Arctic expedition in charge of Captain Bernier, which has just returned from the northern regions, are to be shown in Quebec City shortly. They contain interesting incidents of the life of the Eskimo and typical scenes of the Northern land.

Up to the end of June, 1923, according to E. W. Peatly, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, the Company had disposed of 18,194,737 acres of agricultural lands, for which an average price of $7.87 per acre was received. During this period the Company had, by direct effort of its own, secured the settlement of over 100,000 farmers in Western Canada.

A splendid hunting year with a late open fall is reported from British Columbia. A world's record Osborn caribou was killed by D. W. Bell, of Williamsport, Pennsylvania. The length of the head was 65 1/2 inches, spread 55 inches and thirty-eight points. A party of three, of whom Bell was one, bagged nearly 100 pieces.

A total of 40 round voyages to the port of St. John, New Brunswick, constituting an increase of six over last winter's figures, is announced by the Canadian Pacific in a newly issued schedule of operations for the winter port. The S.S. Montclare will be the first liner to leave St. John after the close of St. Lawrence navigation, sailing for Liverpool on December 7th.

Captain S. Robinson, R.N.R., the hero of the Japanese disaster, who commanded the Empress of Australia when that ship was in Yokohama harbor at the time of the earthquake, has been fittingly honored by the Canadian Pacific Railway. He is to command the company's steamship, the Empress of Canada, when the ship leaves New York, January 30th, on a world cruise.

The most spectacular nugget brought to town in many years arrived in Cobalt, Ont., recently, and the camp's outliners gathered round, admiring the huge mass. The nugget weighs approximately 3,200 pounds, is estimated to run fully 75 per cent silver and is worth over $20,000, according to the estimate of the owner, Angel Clemens, a New Lisakard carter.

The Royal Canadian Naval Reserve, of 500 officers and men, is now being organized, and it is expected that selection of officers will be completed early in November. Headquarters will be established at Charlotte Harbor, Halifax, Lunenburg, St. John, Quebec, Vancouver, Prince Rupert and Victoria. Naval training at the naval bases of Esquimaux or Halifax will be given to R.C.N.V.R. ratings during the winter months.

Quebec to Repeat Carnival Success

1. The Game which once, defended the olden snow-covered mountains the small revolution. 2 and 3 are skiing scenes. 4. These are out for a "hunting" good time. 5. Skating in the Exhibition Grounds is also the order of the day. 6. "Hug" was born this year on the Chateau Frontenac dog track and he will probably figure largely in the dog race featuring the Winter Sports Program.

QUEBEC is again to have a real, live carnival that shall be truly representative of the wonderful sporting attractions of the ancient Capital. The success of the dog race held in Quebec last year has encouraged the organizers to sponsor a very much bigger program for this year, and a comprehensive series of sporting events will be held on February 21, 22, and 23, in which all the sports for which Quebec is so naturally adapted will be represented, and culminating in a grand masquerade ball at the Chateau Frontenac. In addition to the international races for the Eastern Dog Sled Derby Trophy, there will be events in snow-shoeing, skiing, ice racing, curling and skating. The winter of this year will take place within the Exhibition Grounds, and it is proposed to once again give Quebec an ice palace.

The people of Quebec like, and naturally, a great pride in their wonderful old city, and the ancient capital is not so large that its people cannot get together on occasion to take on mass. A carnival in Quebec is to be forgotten, for the whole populace absorbs the spirit of the season, drawing its visitors into the gay vortex, so that even the walls which ring to laughter centuries ago lose their aged atmosphere, and lend themselves to the festal. By reason of its even and exhilarating climate, its accessibility and natural and artificial opportunities for sport, Quebec is the home of the winter sports for the continent. Each wintry season, more people are attracted to it, and for long periods it becomes the social centre, as well as the sporting centre of North America. Practically everything that is carried on is on an open scale—Quebec is the soul of hospitality. A hundred miles invite you to skate, as far as you can see, Arcadian hills invite you to ski through their myriad glorious glades, and toboggan slides there are not a few, and there are many excursions which simply must be made on snow-shoes. As for evening entertainment, the ball room of the Chateau Frontenac is the scene of a dance nightly. There are moonlight excursions, events on all illuminated rinks, music, song and dance, a thousand things to do.

Magnificent Specimen of Moose Head

THIS record moose head from an animal shot in Northern Ontario has been secured by the Canadian National Railways to be placed in their building at the British Empire Exhibition in London.
The head has been specially mounted for display and is one of the finest specimens ever secured.
As far as is known only two larger moose heads have ever been secured and one of these was presented to the late King Edward VII. by Canadian sportsmen.

The perimeters of the head shown in the photograph are interesting.
The spread of the antlers is 70½ inches from tip to tip. The weight of the antlers, before mounting, was 44 pounds. The length of the right antler from the base of horn to the tip is 37½ inches and that of the left antler 30 inches. The width of the left palm at the widest point is 15 inches and that of the right 14½ inches. The points total 28 in number, there being 14 on each antler. The weight of the animal was 1,400 pounds.

Before being shipped to England the head will be displayed in the windows of ticket offices of the Canadian National Railways at various cities. It is now on exhibition at the ticket offices at the northwest corner of King and Yonge Sts., Toronto, where it is attracting much attention and comment.

A Birthday Party.

A very nice birthday party was held in Stony last Thursday evening, at the home of Mr and Mrs Henry Opperthauser Jr., to celebrate the natal day of the hostess' sister, Miss Emelia Baron.

A large number of this popular young lady's friends were assembled and spent a very pleasant evening celebrating the event.

A Chapel for Stony.

Rev Father P T Hughes, who has been holding religious services in Stony Plain, is making an effort to erect a chapel for holding Roman Catholic services in Stony.

At the last services here a committee of three was appointed to pick a suitable site and arrange for the building.

The late Andy M Coyes, who had been a regular wor-shipper at Rev Mr Hughes' services, left $300 for the purpose of advancing the Roman Catholic faith in this district.

Poor Grading

Some complaint has been made by local grain raisers, at the low grading of their grain at this point, by the elevators, as the grading so far shows that practically no wheat grading higher than number three is grown here abouts.

This is a record year for shipping out grain from town.
Station Agent J. McCulla is authoritative for the statement that 65 loaded grain cars left Stony in six days and 147 left here since threshing.

Threshing in this district is practically over for the season, with the exception of one or two outfits.

A meeting of the teachers of the district was held in the Stony Plain Town-School on Nov. 21 for the purpose of forming a branch of the Alberta Teachers' Alliance, with Mr C E Clarke, B.A., in the chair.

Following were elected. officers:

Pres., Mr Stockwell, Comet
S. D.

Vice Pres., Miss E Henry,
Stony Plain.

Sec.-Treas., J L Hollins-head.

The second Wednesday of each month was the date set for the regular meeting. Next meeting Dec. 12, 8 p.m., at the local school. All teachers in the district are urged to be present. A discussion of the course in "Citizenship" will be taken up at this meeting.

There is also some business in connection with the Inspectorate convention to be held in Edmonton Dec. 20 and 21.

At the recent meeting an interesting discussion took place on the general health of school pupils. Mr Stockwell explained a health chart supplied by the Red Cross Society. The great value of such a chart in the school was pointed out. A weight record of all pupils is kept. A table giving the normal weight per age accompanies the chart.
Thus pupils below normal weight are discovered and corrective measures can be suggested.
